

DHS is Hiring Veterans!

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) is committed to hiring veterans across the country in various fields. In fact, DHS is a leader in veterans employment across the federal government, employing more than 50,000 veterans.

As part of this commitment, DHS is seeking hundreds of qualified veterans to fill mission-critical positions in law enforcement, business operations, budget/finance/accounting, information technology, intelligence, and more.

Over the next several weeks, we will host webinars for veterans to provide information on DHS career opportunities, veterans appointing authorities, effective resume writing, veterans' preference, and how to create a profile on USAJOBS and make resumes searchable. If you know of a veteran who is interested in a rewarding career with the Department, please encourage them to participate in one of the below webinars for more information.
